Please Note: AnyBodyCanDance needs to be authorised for use while running. For this reason you need to leave the CDROM in your CD drive whenever you run the application, even after installation.

There are three possible ways to install AnyBodyCanDance depending on your needs.

A Full Installation will copy all the files on the CDROM to your hard disk. This installation type requires approximately 485 MB of disk space but will result in the best possible performance from the software.

A Minimal Installation will copy everything except video files to your hard disk. Video will be played directly from the CDROM. This installation type requires approximately 260 MB of disk space and may result in less smooth video playback.

A CDROM Only Installation copies no files to your hard disk (except your customer registration details). This may result in poorer system performance.

If you do not have privileges for installing software on your computer then you can still use AnyBodyCanDance by simply double-clicking the ABCD icon.

The screenshot shows the 'AnyBodyCanDance Installer' window. The title bar reads 'AnyBodyCanDance Installer'. Below the title bar, the text says 'Please personalise your copy of AnyBodyCanDance'. There are several input fields for personal information: 'First Name:', 'Surname:', 'Organisation:', 'Telephone:', 'Email:', 'Address:', 'Town/City:', and 'Postcode:'. Below these fields are two checked checkboxes: 'Please add me to the YDance mailing list' and 'Please notify me about future AnyBodyCanDance product releases'. Underneath the checkboxes is a dropdown menu for 'Installation Type:' with 'Full Installation' selected. Below the dropdown, there is a note: 'Full Installation will copy all video files to your computer for improved video playback. This installation will require approximately 485 MB of disk space.' At the bottom of the window are three buttons: 'Exit Installer', 'Back', and 'Install'. The bottom left corner of the window says 'Page 2 of 2'.

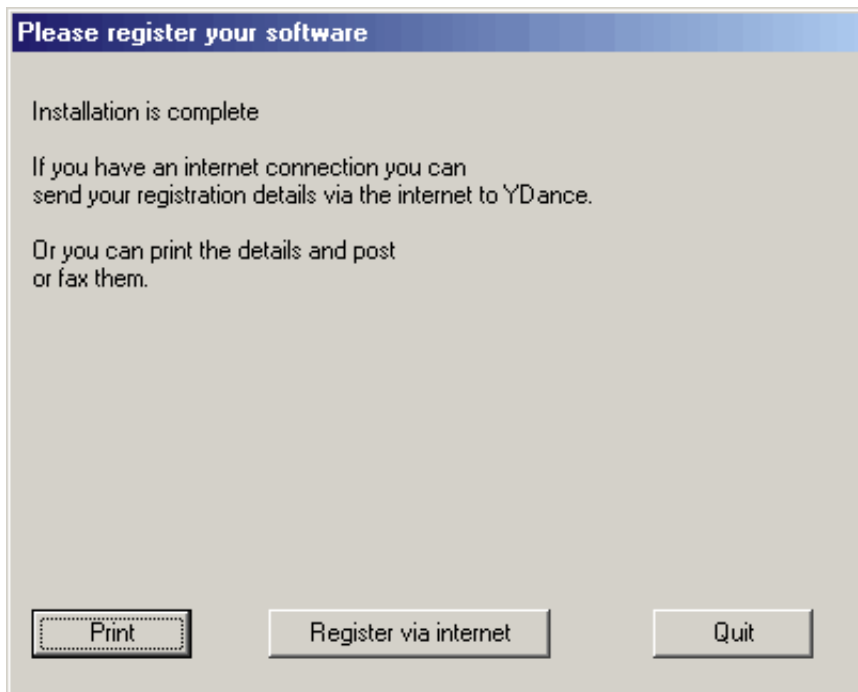

10. Use the Folder Selection Window which appears to choose a place to install your software. If you have chosen a "CDROM Only" installation then choose a place to save your registration details. Please note: You cannot choose a Drive Letter (e.g. C:\) or "My Computer" as the destination folder.

11. When you see this screen then you know that the files are being copied to your hard disk. The time this takes depends on the speed of your computer and CD drive and the type of installation you have chosen. Please note that there is no progress indicator, so please be patient while the files are copied. It may take up to 15 minutes in some cases.

12. Once the files have been copied you will see this screen. To register your software electronically click on "Register via Internet". You must have an internet connection available for this to work. Alternatively you can choose to print and mail/fax your registration details.
